

The coat of arms of Japira is a shield-shaped emblem. At the top is a crown with three towers. The shield is divided into four quadrants: top-left shows a black and red bird on a branch; top-right shows a red triangle and a white triangle with a quill pen; bottom-left shows a landscape with a sun, mountains, and a river; bottom-right shows a person in a white shirt and hat standing in a field. The shield is flanked by two green plants. A red ribbon at the bottom contains the text '14.12' on the left, 'JAPIRA' in the center, and '1952' on the right.
